

Rental rooftop solar panels scam

Overview

Beware of misleading social media ads and sales pitches promising "free" solar, guaranteed savings, or special government payouts—these are major red flags. Compare quotes from multiple installers and check their reviews, certifications, and track records before signing any. Demand for solar-powered home systems has increased rapidly in the last several years. Scams, schemes and straight-up fraud abound in the dark underbelly of an otherwise light-filled industry. Always look for businesses you can trust - like Accredited Businesses using the BBB Seal. But, yes, there are some rooftop solar scammers out there. It's a very small percentage of rooftop solar companies, but it would be a lie to pretend. Many homeowners never get any solar equipment installed; those who do often get shoddy work.
