

Swedish outdoor energy storage field

Overview

Some one hundred scientists have worked within SweGRIDS, on development of electric power grids that can reliably and economically handle higher proportions of renewable generation and widespread energy trading. Sponsor companies have implemented some of the research results. SweGRIDS is the Swedish Centre for Smart Grids and Energy Storage. Started in December 2011, and completed in June 2022, it was a partnership of academia, industry and public utilities, with major funding from the Swedish Energy Agency and from corporate partners that include major manufacturers. As the world races toward decarbonization, Sweden's new energy storage technology is turning heads globally, blending Nordic pragmatism with breakthroughs that even Elon Musk might envy. There is a greater need than ever for dependable and effective energy storage solutions as the. Romina Pourmokhtari, Sweden's Minister for Climate and Environment, officially inaugurated the largest energy storage park in the Nordic region. The initiative, led by Ingrid Capacity in collaboration with BW ESS, consists of 14 large-scale energy storage systems with a total capacity of 211 MW/211. storage system (BESS) in Sweden. It is co-owned by system (BESS) project in Sweden.
